

Expanding Fasti Online

FASTIONLINE

Associazione Internazionale di Archeologia Classica (AIAC)

- Fasti Online expanded, including now Survey and Conservation
- Information and reports on 3700 excavation sites in 14 countries since 2000
- >1200 sites added in the four years of the ARIADNE project
- Fasti's Facebook and Academia.edu pages receive thousands of hits, as many as the site itself

Creating NAHAN

North African Heritage Archives Network

- Aims to build a common platform for over 20 archives in Europe and North Africa
- ARIADNE model, platform provided by the DAI
- The project is headed by ICCROM, with AIAC providing the scientific direction

Impacts and recognition

- Impacts
 - Fasti Online grew, based on increased awareness of the need of sharing archaeological information
 - Huge momentum, driving new initiatives, i.e. NAHAN
- Also we
 - Won the Archaeological Institute of America's first annual award for digital archaeology
 - Mobilised many ARIADNE cooperation partners
 - i.e. ARIADNE set of cultural periods from the Paleolithic to Modern times for 24 European countries on Period0
- "This will be a point of reference for the foreseeable future" – PeriodO, Adam Rabinowitz, Institute of Classical Archaeology, University of Texas
